ETFs trade like stocks, are subject to investment risk, fluctuate in market value and may trade at prices above or below the ETFs net asset value. Brokerage commissions and ETF expenses will reduce returns.

These investments may have difficulty in liquidating an investment position without taking a significant discount from current market value, which can be a significant problem with certain lightly traded securities. Diversification does not ensure a profit or guarantee against loss.

Passive management and the creation/redemption process can help minimise capital gains distributions. Frequent trading of ETFs could significantly increase commissions and other costs such that they may offset any savings from low fees or costs.
